About Me

Master's student in Computer Science – Artificial Intelligence at Polytechnic of Milan, with a strong interest in generative models, neural networks, and machine learning.
Motivated to deepen my expertise in advanced AI methods and contribute to innovative projects in academia or industry, as well as to apply technical expertise to real-world challenges in AI.
Enthusiastic about entrepreneurship and the startup ecosystem, driven by the ambition to develop new solutions to real world challenges and to play an active role in the advancement of technological progress.

Career Objective

Driven to develop cutting-edge technological solutions that make a real difference in everyday life, with a long-term goal of building and leading my own innovative venture.
Driven by a thirst for knowledge, constantly seeking to grow and develop versatile skills to overcome challenges and excel in diverse tasks.
